DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

1. Restriction to one of the following inventions is required under 35 U.S.C. 121:
 - I. Claims 1-11 and 18-20, drawn to a toner, developer, and related image forming method, classified in class 430, subclass 108.7.
 - II. Claims 12-17, drawn to a process for preparing toner, classified in class 430, subclass 137.17.

The inventions are distinct, each from the other because of the following reasons:

2. Inventions II and I are related as process of making and product made. The inventions are distinct if either or both of the following can be shown: (1) that the process as claimed can be used to make other and materially different product or (2) that the product as claimed can be made by another and materially different process (MPEP § 806.05(f)). In the instant case the process as claimed can be used to make other and materially different product such as traditional toners not having the same size or average circularity and the product as claimed can be made by another and materially different process such as by grinding or classifying.
3. Because these inventions are distinct for the reasons given above and have acquired a separate status in the art as shown by their different classification, restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.

4. Because these inventions are distinct for the reasons given above and the search required for Group II is not required for Group I, restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.
5. Because these inventions are distinct for the reasons given above and have acquired a separate status in the art because of their recognized divergent subject matter, restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.
6. During a telephone conversation with Julie Seaman on 4-11-05 a provisional election was made with traverse to prosecute the invention of group I, claims 1-11 and 18-20. Affirmation of this election must be made by applicant in replying to this Office action. Claims 12-17 are withdrawn from further consideration by the examiner, 37 CFR 1.142(b), as being drawn to a non-elected invention.
7. Applicant is reminded that upon the cancellation of claims to a non-elected invention, the inventorship must be amended in compliance with 37 CFR 1.48(b) if one or more of the currently named inventors is no longer an inventor of at least one claim remaining in the application. Any amendment of inventorship must be accompanied by a request under 37 CFR 1.48(b) and by the fee required under 37 CFR 1.17(i).

Specification

8. The disclosure is objected to because of the following informalities: on page 16 line 11, "individual" is misspelled.

Appropriate correction is required.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

9. The following is a quotation of the first paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

Art Unit: 1756

The specification shall contain a written description of the invention, and of the manner and process of making and using it, in such full, clear, concise, and exact terms as to enable any person skilled in the art to which it pertains, or with which it is most nearly connected, to make and use the same and shall set forth the best mode contemplated by the inventor of carrying out his invention.

10. Claims 1, 18, and 20 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, first paragraph, as failing to comply with the written description requirement. The claim(s) contains subject matter which was not described in the specification in such a way as to reasonably convey to one skilled in the relevant art that the inventor(s), at the time the application was filed, had possession of the claimed invention. The concepts of a variation in the number average particle diameter and circularity of the coloring particle is not described sufficiently. The description on page 60 that these values are determined through image analysis and statistical treatment is not sufficient to convey these values to one of ordinary skill in the art.

11. The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

12. Claims 1, 18, and 20 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention. The terms and values for a variation in the number average particle diameter and circularity of the coloring particle are unclear and indefinite.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

13. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

14. Claims 1-11 and 18-20 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over each of Inaba (6,569,589), Ohno (6,528,224), Ono (JP 11-344829), and Yasuno (JP 11-295931). Inaba (col. 23-24 and claims 23-27), Ohno (col. 5-6 and claims), Ono (JP abstract), and Yasuno (JP abstract) each teach similar toners that contain conventional binder, colorant, release agents, and external additives. Each reference teaches the importance in size and circularity of toner compositions including deviation (variation) and the effect of a sharp distribution on developing performance (see above cited portions). It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art to use any art recognized components for the toners because of the well known use and effect of such, including binders, colorants, release agents, and external additives as directly suggested by each reference and the known state of the art in similar toner technology.
